About the College

Shaheed Rajguru College of Applied Sciences for Women affiliated to University of Delhi and funded by Govt. of NCT of Delhi, was established in the year 1989. The College aims to change lives, build future, and impart technical expertise through high quality applied learning. The college puts a strong foot forward to imbibe ethical values with the aim of inculcating self reliance attitude in young women. With 14 academic courses along with varied student societies and clubs, college creates an environment for student’s holistic development.

About the Programme

In a world of dense corporate jungle, the need of the hour is data analytics, to which data extraction is the fundamental step. Capitaline Plus is India's most reliable and empowered corporate database and will enable the faculty and researchers working in the area of finance in broadening their skillset to analyse reports and data for their syllabi and research respectively. Also, the understanding of financial shenanigans has become all the more important for researchers to avoid any unintentional indulgence in unethical research practices. The Programme provides an opportunity to develop your soft skills to broaden your knowledge base by understanding the working of databases and ways to extract original data. Thus, the Programme aims at creating large public awareness about Capitaline Plus and Financial Shenanigans in globalized knowledge economy. The outline of the session is as follows:

- Session 1: Capitaline Plus:

- Ø Why Capitaline Plus?
- Ø What is Capitaline Plus?
