Alternative Methods to Animal Testing (27th – 29th March, 2019)

We invite you to participate in the National Workshop on “Alternative Methods to Animal Testing” to be held on 27th-29th March, 2019, organized by Department of Biomedical Science, Shaheed Rajguru College of Applied Sciences for Women, University of Delhi.

About Workshop: The use of animals in biomedical research and development aimed at understanding disease and creating new treatments has increased tremendously. The pain and distress experienced by the animals during scientific experiments is a long debating issue and has raised societal and ethical concerns worldwide. Three Rs tenet described way back in the year 1959 as Replacement, Refinement and Reduction, addresses the range of concerns about the use of animals in science. Therefore, there is a growing need of alternatives to animal testing, to avoid unethical procedures as well as to overcome the drawbacks associated with animal experiments. The aim of organizing this workshop is to explore some of the key issues relating to research involving animals in the context of 3Rs and provide hands on training focused on the alternative methods including in-vitro and in-silico approaches.

Participation: Faculty Members, Scientists, Research Scholars, Students and Industry Professionals.
