The Literary Society

Whoheartedly invites you to its annual fest

QUINTESSSENCE'22

Established in 2013, Inklings, the Literary Society of Shaheed Rajguru College of Applied Sciences for Women, aims to introduce the members to the vast universe of literature by conducting various interactive programs in the campus throughout the year. The main focus of the society is to bring forth all the orators and writers, and exhibit their creative and expressive side through marvelous productions, where apart from their due recognition they also get a chance to enhance their skills.

Inklings

Quintessence

Quintessence is the annual literary fest of SRCASW, and has been organised by Inklings for the past few years. Various competitions are organised during this fest, and a large footfall is witnessed with participation of students from colleges across Delhi/NCR and beyond. The fest has continued to achieve great feats and set higher benchmarks every year. This year too, we hope to raise the bar and continue to shine.
